

Gift suggestions for families!

Games: Games usually bring people together, and I love the idea of a family game night! While the traditional titles are always appreciated, how about something that's designed to get the family talking and get conversation moving? That's why I love Family Talk. It's a fun, portable game that encourages discussion among family members. While you can't put a price on good conversation, this game costs $9.99.
